

COPEL Distribuição is elected the Best of Brazil by Customers

For the third time in four years, Copel Distribuição has won the Abradee (Brazilian Electric Energy Distributors Association) Award in the "Customer Evaluation" category.

The award is based on the Perceived Quality Satisfaction Index (ISQP) which, in turn, is calculated based on customers' responses to questions on power supply, customer service, information and communication, price and social responsibility.

Annually since 1999, the "Abradee Award" honors the best Distribution Companies in different categories. With the award of this year, the Company accumulates 15 trophies, including four in "Customer Evaluation" and three as "the Best National Distributor".
